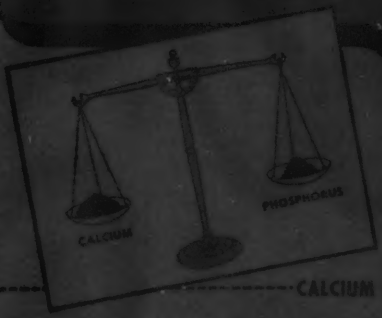
Actual tests show Pard supplies optimum Calcium and Phosphorus in proper balance



The ratio of Calcium to Phosphorus appears to be more important than the actual amounts present. The scale illustrates the nutritional balance achieved thru proper ratio of Calcium to Phosphorus in Pard dog food.

CALCIUM AND PHOSPHORUS CONTENT OF PARD

Based on requirements for rapid growth of pups, and for the female during gestation and lactation.

CALCIUM—Essential, in combination with phosphorus in proper ratio, and with vitamin D, for normal bone and tooth structure. Also important in certain functions of heart, nerve and muscle tissue.

PHOSPHORUS—Vital, in combination with Calcium in proper ratio, and with vitamin D, for normal bone and tooth structure. Necessary for activation of certain enzymes. Important in metabolism of carbohydrates and fats and normal activity of the muscles.

To honor outstanding dogs and their owners, Ken-L-Products Division of The Quaker Oats Company will present silver trophies to the leading Bench Show Winners for 1947. This will be the second annual award of these trophies made to recognize merit and to encourage excellence.

4 Trophies to be Awarded

One award will be made to the Bench Show winner from the East who was awarded the most firsts in variety group decisions during 1947. Other handsome silver trophies of similar value will be awarded on the same basis to a dog from the Mid-West, a dog from the South and a dog from the Pacific Coast.

How Winners Will be Chosen

Winners will be determined by the results of all American Kennel Club member and licensed shows, as published in the American Kennel Gazette. Selection will be made after final firsts in variety group Bench Show winners have been published. Names of the four winners in The Quaker Oats Second Annual Bench Show Awards will be announced in the Gazette early in 1948.

IN BREEDING... IN FEEDING...

Standards Change!

Fifty years ago "tea or ale according to the proportion and weight of the dog" were among the foods included in a conditioning diet. Today scientific advances have produced more exact knowledge of a dog's nutritional needs, and at the same time have made it possible to meet his needs with single, convenient prepared foods.

The Gaines formula of 19 years ago was a first, great step—sensationally ahead of its time. As later research set new standards, Gaines scientists improved the formula to keep pace with widened knowledge—helped lead the way to still higher standards.

Continuous improvement makes the Gaines of today a food that more than meets standards of today—that supplies every element dogs are now known to need. A standby in the feeding of present-day dogs, Gaines is the leading brand among breeders—America's largest-selling dog food.
